

Craftsmanship meets sophistication

The Ross Console is a seamless combination of refined design and superior craftsmanship. Skillfully crafted using premium-quality chestnut massive wood, the console boasts a modern and sophisticated black finish. Its robust body offers ample storage capacity for all your living room or hallway necessities.

The console's brass and travertine feet are unique and add an unparalleled touch of elegance and style to your interior design. The exquisite combination of materials creates a striking contrast with the rich chestnut wood, drawing the eye to its visual appeal.
